DCEFF30 Environmental Champion

Dr. Jane Goodall, DBE

Ethologist; Founder, Jane Goodall Institute;
UN Messenger of Peace

2022 DCEFF Environmental Champion Award Recipient. Dr. Jane Goodall is a world-renowned ethologist and activist inspiring greater understanding and action on behalf of the natural world. Through her tireless advocacy to create a better future for people, other animals, and the planet we share, Dr. Goodall inspires millions around the world with her message of hope through action. She is best known for groundbreaking studies of wild chimpanzees in Gombe Stream National Park, Tanzania, transformative research continued by the Jane Goodall Institute which is now the longest running wild chimpanzee study in the world.

DCEFF30 Special Guest

Dr. Mustafa Santiago Ali

Vice President of Environmental Justice, Climate, and Community Revitalization, National Wildlife Federation

A renowned thought leader, international speaker, policy maker, community liaison, trainer, and facilitator, Dr. Mustafa Santiago Ali serves as the Vice President of Environmental Justice, Climate, and Community Revitalization for the National Wildlife Federation. He is also the founder of Revitalization Strategies, a business focused on moving our most vulnerable communities from “surviving to thriving.”

DCEFF30 Special Guest

James Balog

Director, Earth Vision Institute and Extreme Ice Survey

For nearly 40 years, photographer James Balog has broken new conceptual and artistic ground on one of the most important issues of our era: human modification of nature. To reveal the impact of climate change, James founded the Extreme Ice Survey (EIS) in 2007. The project was featured in the Emmy-winning documentary Chasing Ice and in National Geographic magazine. His 2018 film, The Human Element, which captures the lives of everyday Americans on the frontlines of climate change, has been screened worldwide and won many awards.

DCEFF30 Special Guest

Robert Bilott

Litigator, Advocate, and Author

Robert Bilott is an American environmental attorney from Cincinnati, Ohio. Bilott is known for the lawsuits against DuPont on behalf of plaintiffs from West Virginia. Bilott has spent more than twenty years litigating hazardous dumping of the chemicals perfluorooctanoic acid and perfluorooctanesulfonic acid. His work was adapted into the film Dark Waters starring Mark Ruffalo.

DCEFF30 Special Guest

Juliet Eilperin

Deputy Climate and Environment Editor,
The Washington Post

Juliet Eilperin is a Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist at The Washington Post, editing climate and environmental coverage. She also is the author of two books, “Demon Fish: Travels Through the Hidden World of Sharks” and “Fight Club Politics: How Partisanship is Poisoning the House of Representatives.” Eilperin has worked for The Post since 1998. She previously served as The Post’s senior national affairs correspondent, White House bureau chief, national environmental reporter and House of Representatives correspondent.

DCEFF30 Special Guest

Alex Honnold

Professional Rock Climber; Subject of Free Solo

Alex Honnold is a professional adventure rock climber whose audacious free-solo ascents of America's biggest cliffs have made him one of the most recognized and followed climbers in the world. A gifted but hard-working athlete, Alex is known as much for his humble, self-effacing attitude as he is for the dizzyingly tall cliffs he has climbed without a rope to protect him if he falls. Honnold has been profiled by 60 Minutes and The New York Times, featured on the cover of National Geographic, and starred in numerous adventure films.

DCEFF30 Special Guest

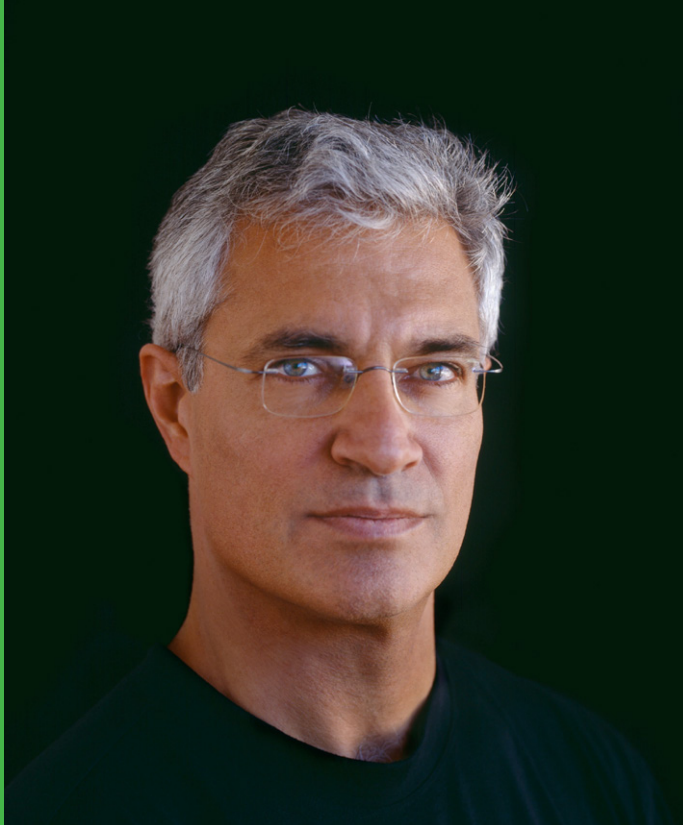

Shelton Johnson

Community Engagement Specialist, Yosemite National Park

Although Shelton Johnson was born and raised in Detroit, MI., early childhood experiences in Germany and England, followed by later service with the Peace Corps, influenced him enough to pursue a career as a National Park Ranger. He has found his home in Yellowstone, Grand Teton, and finally Yosemite where for 25 years he has told the story of African American soldiers who served as some of the first official guardians of Yosemite and Sequoia National Parks. This passion to connect African Americans to America's Best Idea led to decades of media engagement and culminated in his collaboration with Ken Burns and Dayton Duncan on their PBS documentary film, The National Parks, America's Best Idea in 2009 and a recent profile in The New York Times. Today he works as the Community Engagement Specialist for Yosemite National Park.

DCEFF30 Special Guest

Louie Psihoyos

Director, The Cove, Racing Extinction,
& The Game Changers

Louie Psihoyos, is the executive director of the Oceanic Preservation Society, a former National Geographic photographer and an Academy Award-winning director. In 2010, Psihoyos' first documentary film, The Cove, won the Academy Award and became the first documentary in history to sweep all the film guilds. The activism inspired by the film helped reduce dolphin the dolphin slaughter in Japan over 90%.

DCEFF30 Special Guest

Anne Thompson

Editor-at-Large, IndieWire

Born and raised in New York, IndieWire Editor-at-Large Anne Thompson has been a contributor to the New York Times, Washington Post, the Observer, and Wired. She has served as film columnist at Variety and deputy editor of Variety.com, where her daily blog, “Thompson on Hollywood”, launched in March 2007. A graduate of the Department of Cinema Studies at New York University, she has taught film criticism at USC and hosts the fall semester of “Sneak Previews” for UCLA Extension. In 2014, HarperCollins published her book, “The $11 Billion Year: From Sundance to the Oscars, an Inside Look at the Changing Hollywood System.”

DCEFF30 Special Guest

Lucy Walker

Director, Waste Land & Countdown to Zero

Lucy Walker is an Emmy-winning British film director who has twice been nominated for an Academy Award and is renowned for creating riveting, character-driven nonfiction that delivers emotionally and narratively. The Hollywood Reporter has called her “the new Errol Morris” and Variety has praised her unique ability to connect with audiences.

DCEFF30 Special Guest

Senator Sheldon Whitehouse

U.S. Senator from Rhode Island

U.S. Senator Sheldon Whitehouse is fighting to reduce carbon pollution, protect our air and water, and position America as a leader in the clean energy economy. As a member of the Senate Environment and Public Works (EPW) and Finance Committees, he plays a key role in crafting policies to address climate change and strengthen environmental protections. Whitehouse co-founded the Senate Climate Action Task Force to build support for action to address carbon pollution, and sits on Senate Democrats' Special Committee on the Climate Crisis.

DCEFF30 Special Guest

Rev. Lennox Yearwood, Jr.

President and CEO, Hip Hop Caucus

Rev. Lennox Yearwood Jr. is a minister, community activist, U.S. Air Force veteran, and one of the most influential people in Hip Hop political life. Rev. Yearwood entered the world of Hip Hop Politics as the Political and Grassroots Director for the Hip Hop Summit Action Network in 2003 and 2004, and as a key architect of P. Diddy's "Vote Or Die!" campaign. To carry the energy of the efforts beyond election day, he founded Hip Hop Caucus in September of 2004.
