35th Annual DC Environmental Film Festival

Join Us April 8-17, 2027

Don't miss an incredible opportunity to align your brand, business, or organization with one of the largest and longest running environmental film festivals in the world.

Voted DC's Best Film Festival the last eight years in a row, DCEFF attracts thousands of diverse, passionate, and engaged audience members from the DMV region and beyond.

There are few better opportunities to engage with eco-conscious consumers, creatives, and changemakers than during our annual 10-day Festival, which is poised to be one of the city's major Earth Month events in 2027.

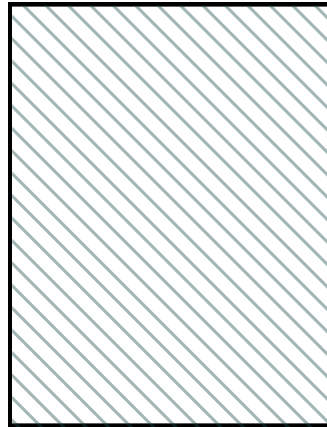

2027 Festival Guide Advertising

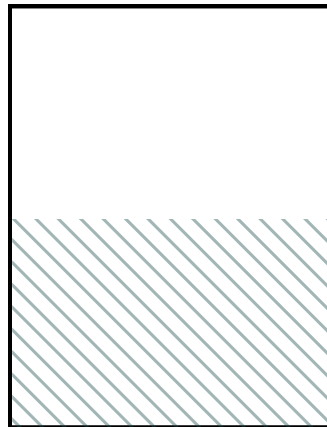

Thousands of printed guides will be distributed across our 20+ venues, including at universities, museums, embassies, and other arts, cultural, and scientific institutions.

The digital version of the guide is also shared widely in our newsletter (20K+ subscribers) and on social media (40K+ followers).
